DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 2/23/07 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 3, 4 and 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Principato (5340493).

Principato teaches a composition which comprises esters and glycol ethers within the scope of the present invention, and further comprising a surfactant as in claim 11 (see example 3 and the claims). Solvents such as in claim 9, may also be present (column 5, lines 17-35).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, 4 and 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mulcahy (5340495).

Mulcahy teaches a cleaning composition which comprises an ester within the amount of the present invention, and an glycol ether which can be a diethylene glycol ether of butanol, when ethylene oxide and a C4 alcohol is used at a ratio of 2:1 (see claim 1). Mulchaly differs from the present invention in that a specific example of the use of such glycol ether is not disclosed. But it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize the glycol ether of butanol and diethylene oxide, given the teaching of Mulcahy that such is useful in the cleaning composition. Mulchaly further teaches the utility of compounds within the scope of claim 6, and exemplifies a hexanol ethoxylate within the scope therein (see table I). The utility of two or more compounds for that which they are individually taught useful is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art (In re Kerkhoven 205 USPQ 1069). The utility of a combination of the glycol ethers disclosed by Mulchaly would thus be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

5. Claims 1 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mulchaly or Principato in view of Hendriksen (5693600).

Art Unit: 1712

Mulcahy and Principato are taught above. Such differs from the present invention in not teaching the use of an antioxidant in the composition. Hendriksen teaches that antioxidants may be used in print cleaners which comprise esters of fatty acids (column 5, lines 45-54). Since Mulchaly and Principato are both drawn to cleaning compositions comprising esters of fatty acids as in Hendriksen, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize antioxidants as taught in Hendriksen, in order to obtain antioxidizing properties therein.

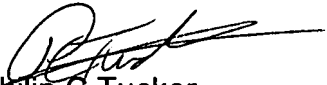

6. Applicant's Petition has been approved. Thus the rejection over Good is withdrawn, in view of applicant perfecting the priority date. New rejections are presented herein.
